A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gendleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months, and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost putrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. On my recommendation six others are taking this valuable remedy."—Mirs. Morgan, 569 W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

of their sternest service, her sisterly pride in her big brother is beautiful to see-so is her self abnegation, for, somehow or other, though he comes to see her, he stays to look at Ruth Harvey, shy, silent and beautiful, and soon, as though by common consent, that corner of the big parlor is given up to those two, the tall, stalwart trooper and the slender, willowy girl. And one evening he comes earlier than usual in manifest discomposure, and soon it transpires that important orders have reached him. Fanny turns pale. "Are you-all-ordered back?" she cries and is for an instant radiant at his assurance that the order involves only himself. She is radiant only until she catches sight of her sister's face. It is not so very warm an evening, yet she marshals the household out on the steps, out on the back veranda-anywhere out of the parlor, where, just as the faint notes of the trumpets are heard sounding their martial tattoo, and just as Lieutenant Wing, returning from a tiptoed visit to his sleeping boy and escaped for the moment from the vigilance of his wife, now happens to go blundering in-there is heard from the dimly lighted corner near the piano the sound of subdued sobbing, the sound of a deep, manly voice, low, soothing, wondrously happy, the sound-a sound-indescribable in appropriate English, yet never misunderstood-a sound at which Wing halts short, pauses one instant irresolute, then faces about and goes tipto ing out into the brilliant sheen of the vestibule lamps, into the brilliant gleam of his fond wife's questioning, reproachful eyes.

And for all answer, it being perhaps too public a spot for other demonstration, Wing simply hugs himself.

That night, under the arching roof of the great railway station, the comrades, so long united by the ties of such respect and affection as are engendered only by years of danger and hardship borne in common, and now so happily united by a closer tie, are pacing the platform absorbed in parting words.

"I know you didn't. Yet Fan says that ever since the voyage in the Newbern little Ruth has never had a thought for anybody else."

There is a moment's silence, then Wing speaks again:

"There has not been time for mother's letter to reach me. I had to write, of course, and tell her of the fate that at last befell him. Do you know I feel as though after all it was my hand that did it.

WARDENS FIGHT.

Deputy Warden Playford Knocks Out Deputy Warden Stackhouse.

The Fight Was With Bare Knuckles in the Pulpit, While the Convicts Were Waiting for the Weekly Admoniton to Flee From the Wrath to Come.

COLUMBUS, O., April 30,-The excel-lent discipline which exists and is consistently maintained at the Ohio penitentiary was admirably illustrated Sunday, in the presence of nearly 2,000 amused convicts, 200 shocked visitors and a few interested guards. Deputy Wardens Playford and Stackhouse had a fight to the finish with bare knuckles in the pulpit of the chapel while the congregation of convicts were waiting for the weekly admonition to flee from the wrath to come. It was a most disgraceful affair, the evident result of the jealousy that has characterized the warden's treatment of his deputies. Capt. Playford, who ranks Stackhouse, is to quit the prison Monday. Col. James was recently reappointed for two years, but failed to reappoint Capt. Playford because that official has been so uniformly popular with the press, the guards and the convicts that the warden was in danger of losing his identity.

As Capt. Playford is to quit Monday, he thought it might be fitting to give those with whom he has been thrown in association a kind word in parting. It is understood that the deputies have charge of the chapel exercises, and it was not considered a breach of discipline for Capt. Playford to say word before he should leave. He had o tained the full permission of Chaplain Winget and after the invocation and a hymn arose and started forward on the platform. Immediately there was a slight commotion as Col. James seized Capt. Playford by the arm and said "Sit down." Capt. Playford resisted slightly, and the burly Stackhouse jmmped forward, and, taking Capt. Playford by the arm, twisted him around with such force that his back was sprained.

The audience began to manifest an interest in this unusual proceeding and Capt. Playford, who was thus humiliated in the presence of some Zanesville friends who were visiting him, lost control of himself, and wheeling quickstruck Stackhouse a severe blow full in the face, knocking him off the platform and spattering blood all over the Sunday shirt of the burly deputy. Capt. Playford off followed this blow with another, from which Stackhouse recovered slowly. Then the warden and his son, seeing the advantage which Capt. Playford had over the heavyweight, took a hand. The blood streamed from the nose and mouth of Stackhouse as he tumbled in a heap among the annex men. The visitors and the convicts looked on in amazement. Stackhouse rallied before time was called, but there was by that time sufficient interference to keep the men apart and Capt. Winget had a chance. Stackhouse was taken out and washed up and is wearing several beauty spots on his countenance. The convicts applauded the fact that Capt. Playford got the better of the fight, as he was the favorite. They then hissed the other side and the disgraceful episode of a Settlement.

OPERATORS WEAKENING.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 30.-A meeting of the coal operators of the Pittsburgh district will likely be held in a day or two to discuss the situation and present their side of the case to the miners' officials.

Col. W. P. Rend, who has been in Pittsburgh several days, and talked with most of the operators, said Sunday night: "The operators in all the leading mining states are willing to try to make a settlement of some sort, but some of the Indiana and Illinois operators have refused to attend any meeting."

The operators generally, Col. Rend said, are not opposed to a conference, but those who are will stand in the way of a general settlement, and if the miners hold to the position they have assumed, the suspension is likely to last indefinitely.

The miners' officials stated Sunday night that they confidently expected to hear from the operators on the matter of a wage adjustment before the close of the week.

Part of the puddling department of Jones & Laughlan's mill, the Sligo mill, Singer, Nimick & Co., and probably the Clinton mill, will probably close Monday night.

Strange Suicide.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 30.-Robert H. Smith, a young lawyer, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart. He was in the best of spirits during the day and settled a number of accounts. He attended the state republican convention last week as a delegate. He was a nephew of ex-State Senator Lemcke, and bid fair to have a successful future. He was unmarried and well to do. No cause is assigned for the deed.

The present levy is 14-10 mills. A bill having for its object the protection of the wool industry was, in troduced by Mr. Gray, of Fayette.

COLUMBUS, O., April 24 - SENATE. - The Senate Tuesday passed Representative Stewart's bill authorizing the commissioners of Hamilton county to widen and improve Beckman street between Harrison avenue and Queen City avenue. Mr. McConica's senate bill taxing railroads for the support for the railroad com missioner's department was also passed. Mr. Whittlesey introduced a bill providing for a grade of cheese to be known as fine milk cheese to be made from milk from which none of the cream has been taken.

House-Tuesday the senate bill conferring upon women the right of franchise passed by a vote of 55 to 26. As it stands, the bill provides that all women of the age of twenty-one, born or naturalized in the United States, who shall have been residents of the state for one year and of the county, town, township or other elec-tion precincts such time as the law provides for men shall be entitled to vote for the school offi cers named. Separate ballot boxes shall be provided for the ballots of women and separate registration lists shall be kept. The ladies will have to register the same as men. The house began work on the general appropriation bill for next year and only got as far along as the appropriation for the salary of members of the legislature when there came a sudden stop and the discussion of the biennial sessions com

COLUMBUS, April 2d. - SENATE - Senator Hogg introduced a bill to reapportion the Seventh and Eighth judicial districts and the Fourth and Seventh judicial circuits, and to authorize the election of an additional judge in the third subdivision of the Seventh district. The gen eral appropriation bill passed the senate Wednesday afternoon after the adoption of amendments appropriating \(^15,000\) to establish a department of ceramics at State university, $1,000 to pay for portraits of ex-Gov. Campbell and Ben Wade and a few minor changes in the sums given the departments. The senate passed a bill by Mr. McConica which provides that the clerk of the supreme court shall pay to the supreme court reporters out of the fees received by the clerk, $2 each for extra service in editing, tabulating, indexing and publishing in the reports all cases disposed of except those dismissed by consent of parties or for want of House-The house passed bills to pay Dr. Spooner, sitting member from Seneca, $1,072.85 and by Mr. Winn to pay Charles Flumerfelt, ex-member. $1.081.86, the expenses each in-curred in the Spooner-Flumerfelt contest. The house passed a bill by Mr. Taylor, of Crawford, to amend section 4215 as amended. The bill provides that the surplus dog tax fund in excess of that necessary to pay for sheep killed may be transferred to the bridge fund, or to the fund for the relief of indigent soldiers, at the discretion of the county commissioners. The bill to amend the tax inquisitor law was buried be-yord resurrection Wednesday morning, the house voting down a motion to reconsider the vote by which it was lost Tuesday.

COLUMBUS, April 24. SENATE—The senate passed a couple of bills Thursday, one of them being Mr. McMaken's bill prohibiting persons from standing on or walking on railroad tracks, which was defeated Wednesday afternoon. The other bill passed was Mr. Abboti's amending the pharmacy law. It allows all assistant pharmacists of five years' experience and all physicians who have practiced for five years to btain from the state board of pharmacy certificates as registered pharmacists with power to own and run drug stores.

House-The house did nothing Thursday morning but discuss the Musgrove medical bill. which was Wednesday indefinitely postponed. There is a plan in this. The Haskell local option bill was a special order for Thursday morning and the Musgrove bill will be kept before the house all day in order to prevent the Has-kell bill from coming up.

COLUMBUS, April 28.—SENATE—The Strehli street railroad bill was repealed Friday morn-ing by the concurrence of the senate in the action of the house passing the Paxton bill. It was passed by a vote of 17 years to 4 mays, as follows: Ayes-Messrs Avery, Brown, Clark, Earnhart, Eckley, Hughey, Iden. Kirchner, Laning, McMaken, Mosgrove, Ohl, Phillips, Ro-rick, Rothert, Sparks, Stillwell, Nays—Messrs, Ely, Hogg, McCon'ca, Plum. A bill bearing the title, "To prevent the destruction of forests and preserve the same," was introduced Fri-day morning by Senator Earnhart. It requires the commissioners of every county to plant forest trees along all the streets, alleys or high-ways in the counties and to protect and preways in the counties and to protect and pre-serve them.

House—The house disposed of a few unimportant bills Friday morning. The only thing of any interest done was the introducing of a joint resolution by Mr. Locke. It provides for another constitutional amendment question on the everlasting taxation subject to be submit-ted to popular vote. This amendment is differ-ent from the others that have been submitted during recent years. La provides for the taxing of privileges and francuises for the entire support of the state government. Each locality is to fix its own tax rate through a local board of

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

Second Session WASHINDTON, April 24.—SENATE—Senator Peffer introduced Monday, by request, a bill entitled "A bill to dispose of idue labor and dis-courage idle wealth in the District of Columbia, and for other purposes," its object being to impose on all idle land in the district an annual tax equal to its annual increment of value, and to use the revenue thus obtained in the con-struction and management of public works in the district, so as to give employment to idle citizens. The bill was referred to the District committee. Mr. Peffer also made an effort to get before the senate again his resolution for a select committee in connection with the ex select committee in connection with the ex-pected arrival of Coxey and his followers, but his motion was negatived by a vote of 17 to 26. Mr. Aldrich (rep. R. I.) presented a petition of unemployed women against the Wilson tariff bill. He asked that the memorial be printed in the form of a document for the use of the senate. It was so ordered. House bill for the division of the eastern district of Michigan into the north and south divisions was reported and passed. The house bill to protect the birds and animals in Yellowstone national park, and to punish crimes was passed with several amendments. House-The house Monday devoted itself to business pertaining to the District of Columbia and considered some measures of local interest. The bill authorizing the Metropolitan Street Railway Co., of Washington, to change its motive power was passed. A bill similar to the Ives racing law of New York was rejected.

WASHINGTON, April 25-SENATE-The great washington, April 29-Senate—The great feature of the senate Tuesday was the speech of Senator Mills (dem. Tex.), including general debate on the tariff bill. He spoke for a little over two and a half hours in his sunal fervent and impassioned style, and was honored with a very attentive hearing on the part of the many senators and crowded galleries. He did not think the bill perfect, but it should be passed. The closing part of his speech was the most effective and the most calculated to attract at tention. In it he declared openly his contempt for the traditions of the senate so far as endless debate and the right of obstruction were con cerned, and said that if the forty-four demo cratic senators had the same purpose as he had, and if there was a forty-fifth democrat in the chair, the senate would pass the bill in less than forty-eight hours.

House-No business of importance trans acted Tuesday.

Washington, April 26.—Senate—Mr. Sher-man (rep., O.), a member of the finance com-mittee, stated that he had been authorized by the committee to offer an amendment which he thought would remove the objections of building associations to the income tax bill. The amendment, he said, would cover all building associations whose business it is to loan money to other shareholders or to receive deposits for them. The tariff bill was then taken up for consideration paragraph by paragraph, the formal reading of the bill in extense being dis-pensed with. With the first line of the bill there was an amendment (reported by the finance committee) to fix the time when the act is to take effect, the 30th of June, 1891, instead of the 1st. A bill and a resolution on the sub ject of the expected arrival in the capital of Coxey and his followers was introduced prior to adjournment by the populist senators from Kansas and Nebraska.

House-Over four hours of Wednesday's session of the house was devoted to a consider-ation in committee of the whole of the diplomatic and consolar appropriation bill for the year ending June 39, 1895. But seven pages of the bill were disposed of in that time. A great part of the session was consumed in an attack upon the Chinese treaty, now pending in the senate. Considerably time was also given to a general though somewhat desultory discussion of the consular fee system, upon a motion by Mr. Hepburn (rep., Ia.) to require all consuls receiving salaries of $3,000 a year and upwards to cover all their fees into the treasury.

WASHINGTON, April 27 .- SENATE-The resolution which the populist senator from Nebras-ka, Mr. Allen, offered on Wednesday, was taken up in the senate Thursday and led to a discussion in which Mr. Allen had to resist, single handed, the attacks made from both sides of the chamber. First in the arena of conflict was Mr. Vest (D., Mo.), who expressed himself in favor of punishing rather than welcoming men who had trampled on the law and under-taken to secure transportation to Washington by force of arms, and he declared that there must be no position of faltering, but that "the whole issue must be met here and now." Next in the list was the young senator from Col-orado (Mr. Wolcott), who, in ringing and earnest tones, denounced the resolution as a cring-ing invitation to thousands of people who were preparing to invade the capitol, some peaceably and on foot, some by stolen railroad trains, some by beggary and all of them for no useful purpose. HOUSE-The first reply to the call issued by Sergeant at Arms Snow in pursuance of the democratic cancus action, announcing his pur-pose to enforce the law of 1856, requiring him to deduct from members' salary for absence except for sickness, was heard in the house Thurs Mr. Mahon (Rep., Pa.) offered as ter of privilege a resolution relating thereto declaring it to be an infringement upon the dig nity and privilege of members and wholly un authorized by law. An exciting discussion for lowed, at the end of which Speaker Crisp ruled that the resolution did not present a question resolution presenting the matter in another form was followed by an appeal by Mr. Mahon This was laid on the table. The diplomatic and consular appropriation bill was then taken up in committee of the whole and finally consid ered. At 5 o'clock it was reported to the house

WASHINGTON, April 28.—SENATE-Senator Peffer introduced a bill Friday to provide for a collection of the debts due from the Union Pa cific Railroad Co. The bill authorizes the of the road, and provides that in case no bid is made equal to the amount of the indebte ness, the government shall bid in the property and operate the road. The president Friday sent to the senate the following nominations: Harry E. Briggs, United States attorney for the Western district of Wisconsin. Postmasters-Root, Berea. Indiana-John R. Heaston, Win chester: Thos. J. Smith. Frankfort.

House-The bill making appropriations for the support of the department of agriculture for the fiscal year, 1895, was completed by the house committee on agriculture Friday. amounts appropriated by the bill have not yet been footed up, but they will approximate a total of $2,450,000, as compared with an appro-priation of $2,598,000 for the current fiscal year. Under an arrangement reached by unanimous consent, the house disposed of all the private pension and relief bills—twenty-five in number -reported by the committee of the whole from Friday night's session so far this session. At 5 o'clock the house took a recess until 8 o'clock, the evening session to be devoted to private pension and relief bills.
